CONSILEGY

Company Profile

Make Japan revenue execution visible, manageable, and repeatable.

A Japan GTM partner that starts from CRM, marketing, and sales operations.

Consilegy LLC | October 2026

Our Mission: Give society more choices.

Choices change the future. Move what you want to do forward.

Companies that can't move forward on what they want to do aren't short on ambition. They just can't see which paths are open. Once the structure is visible, choices appear. And when a company chooses and moves forward, new choices open up for its people and its partners too.

What usually stops a choice is a lack of time and hands. So Consilegy doesn't advise from the outside. We join as part of your team. Your 24 hours, plus ours. A 48-hour day. We work alongside you from strategy through implementation and adoption, and we turn what we learn into Revenue CRM, a tool we share with more companies.

Sound familiar?

If one of these applies, this deck is for you.

01 Leads are up, but closed deals are not

02 Once a lead goes to sales, nobody knows what happened

03 Deal data is split across products, channels, and languages

04 No one can explain renewals and churn in shared terms

None of these can be fixed inside one department. The cause sits between marketing, sales, and customer success, and in Japan, between the local team and HQ. We redesign them as one flow.

What changes

Once the revenue architecture is in place. All figures come from real engagements.

Campaigns connect to revenue

See which campaigns drove new deals and recurring revenue (ARR).

-30% less analysis time

Consulting firm, ~150 employees

Numbers stop disagreeing

Sales, marketing, CS, and finance share one set of metric definitions.

-65% less data wrangling

Healthcare tech, ~150 employees

Sales stops depending on one person

A repeatable deal process replaces individual heroics.

3 part-time people running the whole flow

New AI business, ~50 employees

Decisions move from gut feel to probability

You see what drove deals, and budget with evidence.

+20% higher MQL→SQL conversion (max)

SaaS, ~200 employees

Why Consilegy

Hands-on execution that turns these assets into results.

1 A method proven over 10 years and 40+ CRM / MA / SFA implementations

+20% MQL→SQL conversion and −65% data work came from this same method.

2 Western methods, translated for how Japan buys

We design for ringi and consensus-building, and report to HQ in English.

3 Designed backward from adoption

We check what the team can actually run, then cut the ideal down to that. Your time: one or two 60-minute interviews and a monthly meeting.

4 No vendor ties

Keep, switch, or skip Salesforce, HubSpot, kintone, or Marketo, judged only on your interest.

Services

From design to implementation, adoption, and improvement. You can start with a current-state review.

1	Revenue architecture design	Design the process and data flow that connects sales, marketing, and CS to revenue.
2	Marketing strategy	Who to reach, with what, and how: the base from lead to opportunity, built for Japan buyers.
3	MA / CRM / SFA design and implementation	We build the design into HubSpot or your current stack: integrations, automation, and dashboards.
4	Adoption and improvement	Entry rules, alerts, dashboards, and review cycles, so the team keeps using it.

No CRM yet? Our own CRM/SFA, Revenue CRM, is an option (next page). We resell no tools, so if HubSpot or another tool fits better, we recommend it.

Revenue CRM: add a CRM, not more work.

Our own CRM/SFA for teams without a dedicated CRM admin. It cuts the typing, setup, and upkeep a CRM usually adds.

1

AI records the work

Business cards, handwritten notes, and recordings become contact and deal records.

2

175 automations, with a diagnosis

175 ready-made automations. A built-in check suggests which ones to turn on.

3

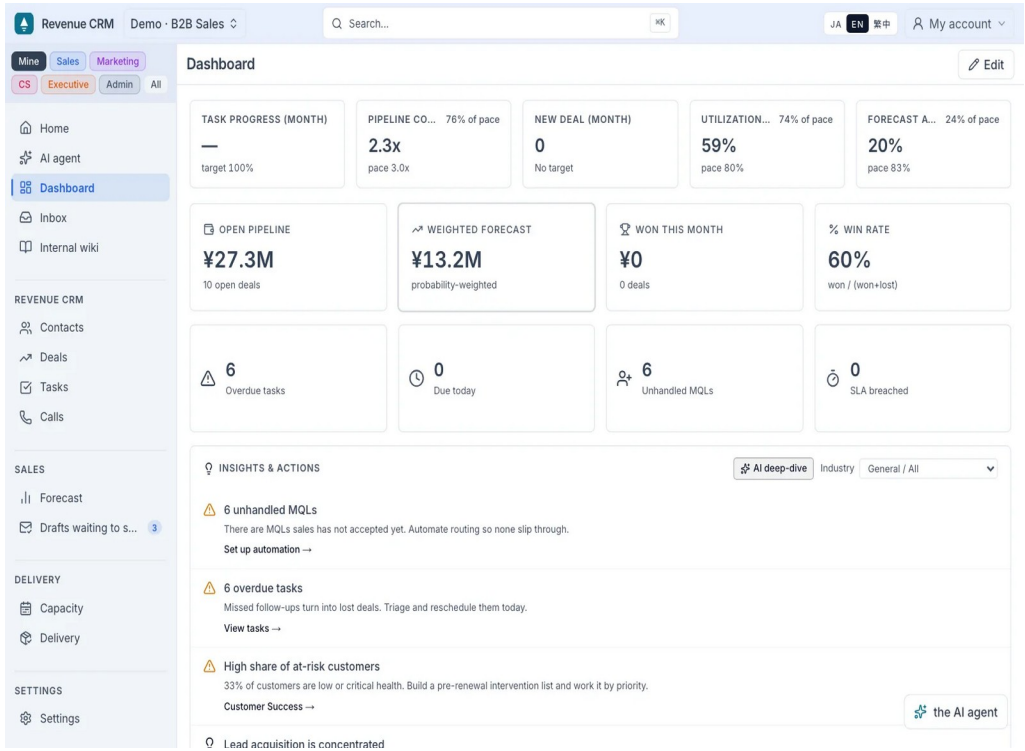

Set up for your business

Four editions: B2B, agencies, SaaS resellers, and schools. UI in English, Japanese, and Traditional Chinese.

Editions

Three B2B editions and a school edition, each built around what it manages. Details: consilegy.com/en/crm

Pricing: from ¥3,000 per user per month (excl. tax), with a 30-day free trial.

+20 %

Higher MQL→SQL conversion (max)

Before

Lead volume was growing, but sales and marketing judged leads differently and handoffs depended on individuals. Priorities were unclear, conversion swung, and the forecast was unstable.

What we did

- Redesigned the full revenue process with a revenue architecture
- Lead scoring on behavioral data, plus nurture journeys
- Handoff rules, automated alerts, and one shared qualification standard

Results

- MQL→SQL conversion up to 20% higher
- Sales focused on high-intent leads and worked faster
- Pipeline read on one shared standard

Lead judgment and handoff moved from individuals to a repeatable system.

Pricing

All prices exclude tax and are adjusted to scope, duration, and requirements.

Step01

Diagnose (revenue diagnostic)

¥100k–¥500k

Light review: ¥100k–¥150k. 2–3 online sessions and a 10–15 page report. Detailed review: ¥300k–¥500k (4–6 weeks). CRM/MA review, 5–10 interviews, roadmap, executive readout.

Step02

Redesign the revenue process

¥3M–¥8M

3–6 months (lump sum or installments). Data model, multi-CRM integration and migration, sales/marketing/CS process, KPI and reporting, neutral vendor selection, project management. Salesforce, HubSpot, kintone, Marketo and more.

Step03

Make it stick (advisory)

¥300k–¥1M / month

Light: ¥300k–¥400k (3 months+), 1–2 meetings a month. Standard: ¥500k–¥800k (3 months+), monthly meetings with each team, KPI reviews, async support. Full: ¥800k–¥1M (6 months+), campaign design and execution, in-house enablement.

Not sure where to start? Begin with the Step01 light review (from ¥100k). No commitment to the redesign afterward.

Writing on B2B RevOps and revenue architecture in Japanese and English (as of July 2026).

Change does not happen on theory alone. It takes getting into the work, untangling complexity, and executing step by step. Consilegy closes the gap between strategy and execution.
